

Indigenous Enterprise LLC and its CEO, Anton Treuer, extend their sincere appreciation to the SissyMarySue Education Fund for their steadfast partnership in advancing educational opportunity and access. Over the past several years, SissyMarySue has generously served as a fiscal agent supporting our shared mission to expand high-quality educational resources that center authentic Native American voices and histories. Their commitment has helped make it possible to distribute thousands of books featuring dynamic Native American content to students across the State of Minnesota—at no cost to schools or families.

This collaboration has strengthened literacy, enriched public education, and contributed meaningfully to greater racial equity in classrooms and communities. By helping remove barriers to culturally relevant learning materials, the SissyMarySue Education Fund has empowered students and educators alike with resources that reflect the richness and diversity of Native American experiences. Indigenous Enterprise is deeply grateful for their leadership, trust, and partnership in this work, and we look forward to continuing to expand the impact of this shared mission in the years ahead.

Dr. Anton Treuer, CEO, Indigenous Enterprise LLC